Ultra-Premium Isobar Protection

With independently verified surge-stopping power fully tested and certified to meet strict UL standards, this Tripp Lite Isobar® surge protector is the smart choice to protect your valuable equipment. Compared to other surge protectors, Isobar models have a substantially larger and more robust surge-blocking architecture.

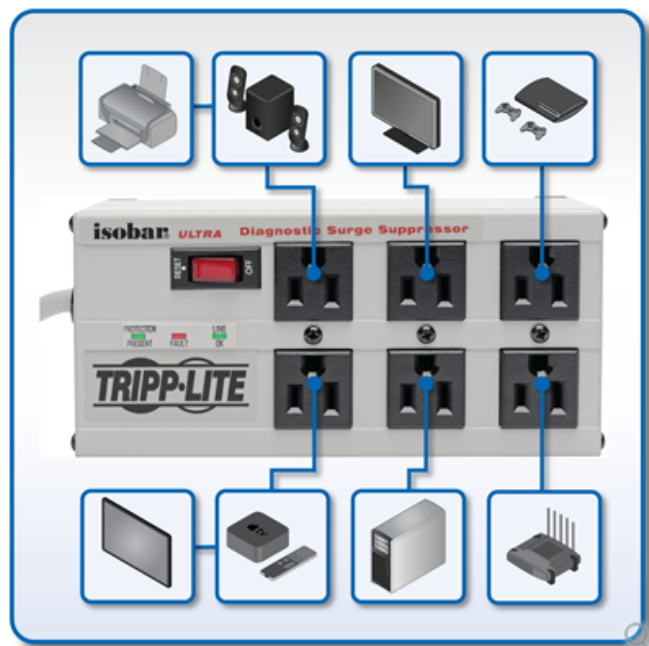

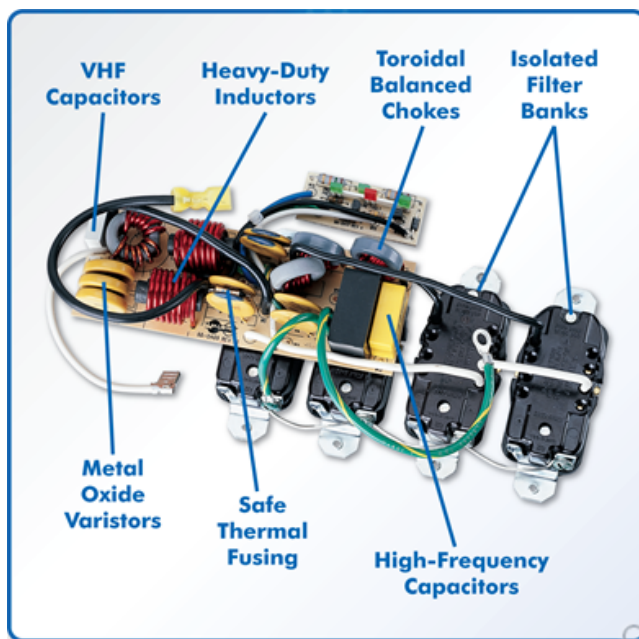

- 3330-joule surge protection rating – More joules mean more protection!
- EMI/RFI noise filtering protects against external interference
- Exclusive isolated filter banks protect against internal interference
- Resettable circuit breaker protects against overloads
- Metal housing won't crack, burn or melt

Multi-Component Surge “Firewall”

Compared to other surge protectors, Isobar models have a substantially larger and more robust surge-blocking and noise-filtering architecture.

- VHF (very-high-frequency) and high-frequency capacitors remove noise interference
- Heavy-duty ferrite-core inductors increase noise suppression and reduce let-through voltage
- Toroidal balanced chokes remove noise interference
- Isolated filter banks block interference between connected devices
- Metal oxide varistors (MOVs) absorb surges

- Safe thermal fusing provides fail-safe system protection

Ready for Home and Office

This surge protector is perfect for home and office electronics of all kinds, including computers, monitors, printers, wireless routers, televisions, video game consoles, streaming media players, sound systems, device chargers, desk lamps and small appliances.

- 6 AC outlets, including transformer outlets optimized for bulky AC adapters
- High-quality 6-foot AC input cord with 5-15P right-angle plug that allows furniture and equipment to be moved flush against the wall
- Durable and fire-resistant metal housing
- Keyhole mounting slots
- Diagnostic LEDs
